Dreamed

I dreamed a dream
Of you and me
And in that dream
We sailed the waves
There was such a nice breeze
All the memories were free
In a field by the sea
There was just you and me
No directions and no need to rush
I got lost while the sunlight was shining brightly
I realized that we would get old
We walked with my hand in your hand
I remember when you asked me if I'd like to dance
In the whispering sound of the breeze
I got lost in a daydream of silence and peace in the moment, the space in between
And the dawning of spring
